Kyuden International Corporation establishes UK Subsidiary

—Kyuden Group's first base in Europe —

Kyushu Electric Power Co., Inc. is pleased to announce that its group member, Kyuden International Corporation (KIC), has established Kyuden International UK Ltd in London, marking the Kyuden Group's first base in Europe. The strategic move aims to strengthen KIC's presence in the region through enhanced information gathering, networking, project management, and the development of new business opportunities across Europe.

To date, KIC has been engaged in overseas energy businesses in 15 countries and regions, and provided consulting services in 23 countries.

In the United Kingdom, KIC has been involved in Energy-from-Waste projects<sup>*1</sup> and the Seagreen Phase 1 offshore electricity transmission project<sup>*2</sup>. In addition, it also has been selected as the preferred bidder for the Dogger Bank A offshore windfarm transmission project<sup>*3</sup>, together with Kyushu Electric Power Transmission and Distribution Company, among others.

Through the establishment of the UK subsidiary, KIC will manage these projects and actively pursue new opportunities in the region. The new London office will also serve as a strategic overseas base for the Kyuden Group's global operations, with the aim to strengthen its international presence and explore new business opportunities.

Leveraging its advanced technological expertise and extensive experience, the Kyuden Group will continue to expand its operations in Europe and globally, in pursuit of its "Kyuden Group Strategic Vision 2035" and "Carbon Neutral Vision 2050".
